House Okays $20 Million Bond for Roads

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House today stamped its approval on standby legislation authorizing a $20 million highway bond issue in case the state runs short of money to match available federal funds.

The vote was 74-11. There was no debate after Mississippi County Rep. L. H. Autry said it was the governor's bill.

In 1959, a lengthy squabble erupted an attempt to pass a similar standby bond bill. It was eventually adopted, but the Arkansas Highway Commission did not issue any of the bond.

The present bill would repeal the 1959 act.

The bill passed today is a Senate bill and now goes to Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The House voted to make action on a proposed soft drink tax and college construction bond issue bill — special order of business for next Wednesday morning. The Revenue and Taxation Committee has recommended against passage of the bill, sponsored by an association of college presidents.

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen moved that the bill be made a special order, saying, "Let's get this thing out of the way." The author, Columbia County Rep. Harry B. Colay, agreed that the bill should be acted on as soon as possible.

Earlier, the House passed a Senate bill providing that any member of a state board of commission who misses three consecutive meetings except for illness shall be removed from his position.

During the winter speculation, the London price had risen as high as $40.

Dealers said President Kennedy's stand against dollar devaluation, backed up by similar public statements from New York Stock Exchange circles, had generally cooled the market.

Gold Prices Fall on London Market

LONDON (AP) — Gold prices fell in the London free market today to the lowest point since October. Dealers said the winter gold rush sparked by concern over U. S. reserves is definitely over.

The price was fixed this morning at $35.28 3/4 an ounce. The official U. S.-pegged price is $35 an ounce.

Editor's Note: While Nate Polowetzky, AP's assistant general business editor, traveling the distressed labor areas of the country, was in Michigan, the Norge Division of the Borg-Warner Corp. announced plans to move its Muskegon plant to Arkansas with the loss of 1,800 jobs in the Michigan city. Polowetzky went to Muskegon to learn the feeling of a city that has just learned it will lose 1,800 jobs. His story follows.

By NATE POLOWETZKY

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Men in heavy work clothes, their faces drawn with anxiety, discussed the news. Wives thought of the future, and saw little hope.

In club and cafe, in the modest home or luxurious, one theme dominated all talk: The disaster. Everyone knew what that meant. The news that Borg-Warner Corp. is going to transfer its Norge Division, manufacturer of refrigerators and freezers, to Fort Smith, Ark., sometime early this summer.

That was the scene today in gloomy Muskegon as citizens girded for a last ditch effort—which nearly everyone discounted beforehand—to convince Norge to stay.

Judson Sayre, Borg-Warner president, said the company was moving to Arkansas because of "favorable business climate, expanding South and Southwest markets, anticipated growth in this general area, and a shifting of the center of population which will influence future consumer purchasing."

How are the people taking it? If the firm moves, "we have 1,800 more people out of work," said one man. "Where are they going to get new jobs? Some are old men and employers don't want old people. Others have never worked anywhere else and

Economy Has Quick Death in the House

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An economy move designed with the taxpayer in mind died a quick death in the Arkansas House Thursday.

The House passed increased appropriations bills for the University of Arkansas and six state colleges after beating down an attempt by one representative to cut the budgets back to current levels.

Mississippi County Rep. E. C. Fleeman made a fiery 15-minute speech in support of his proposed economy amendment. But he drew only yawns and unfriendly stares.

Fleeman contended that through holding appropriations down to 1959 levels, $10 million could be saved and applied to a college building program.

"How much can the taxpayer stand?" he asked. "What will our younger generation pay with?"

When the battle was over, even Fleeman voted for the bills. "But I've supported my last tax," he said. "We owe the people back home some consideration."

He said he would not even vote for a proposed soft drink tax and college construction bond issue bill expected to come to a vote next week. Rep. Harry B. Colay, who authored that bill, said Thursday he believes the House is ready for a showdown on it.

And Gov. Orval E. Faubus said in a news conference he hoped a definite settlement would be reached on the proposal.

A House committee recommended "do not pass" for the bill earlier this week and since then there have been several reports of alternate methods of financing construction at the University of Arkansas, seven state colleges, the State Hospital and the Children's Colony.

Faubus said financing a construction program from state revenues sounded like a feasible plan.

The appropriations bills passed by the House Thursday read like this:

University of Arkansas $7,564,000; Arkansas State Teachers College $883,900; Arkansas Tech $742,100; Arkansas State College and its Beebe branch $1,170,400; Arkansas A&M $633,400; Henderson State Teachers College $752,800; Southern State College $628,100.

Racing Bill Action Is Completed

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Senate today completed legislative action on administration-sponsored bills to require approval of a majority of voters in a county before establishment of a new horse or dog racing track.

Sen. Dan Sprick, a freshman senator from Little Rock, made his first Senate speeches in vigorous opposition to both measures.

The vote on the dog track proposal was 27-4 and on the horse race proposal 24-8.

The bills now go to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who proposed such legislation in his inaugural address.

Sprick objected that other elections required only a majority of those voting in the election.

Sprick said he was not plugging for more race tracks but that he thought the bill was unfair.

Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs, the sponsor said the question was a moral issue and he felt the legislature had a right to impose any restrictions it saw fit on racing.

In his inaugural speech Faubus said it was the intent of legislation which first called for local option actions on any more horse and dog track proposals to require a majority of all voters.

The Arkansas Supreme Court held in a case growing out of an attempt to establish a dog track at Hot Springs that the present law requires only a majority of those voting.

Van Dalsen Wants Toadsuck Park

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill to establish a state park at the famous Toadsuck Ferry on the Arkansas River was filed in the Arkansas House today by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen.

The bill would appropriate $40,000 for construction and operation of the park, which would be on the Perry County side of the river.

Van Dalsen, who once owned the ferry, succeeded about two years ago in getting the state to take over its operation.

The bill states that the free public ferry is rapidly passing from the scene in this country and that thousands of people would like to see and ride on one.

Fidel Fires 120 in Purge of Judges

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro today fired 120 judges throughout Cuba in the second phase of a sweeping court purge aimed at removing all legal obstacles to his rule.

One supreme court justice, the presidents of six provincial courts of appeal, 26 appeals magistrates and 87 other judges came under the ax, which fell for the second time in two months.

The government acted under a Cabinet decree issued Dec. 20 suspending for 45 days a law preventing dismissal of court officers. In the December purge 13 supreme court justices were ousted.

One of Castro's chief complaints against the courts has been that they often awarded owners of seized property too much compensation.

Antonio Nunez Jimenez, chief of Castro's agrarian reform program, warned as long ago as last spring that many judges would have to change their way of thinking or face the consequences.

The new dismissal decree, was signed by Castro, President Osvaldo Dorticos and Justice Minister Alfredo Yabur, said the jurists were thrown out to assure Cuba a more "revolutionary" application of justice.

The targets of the latest purge were accused of counterrevolutionary activity "under protection of their positions," and some of "manifestly immoral conduct."

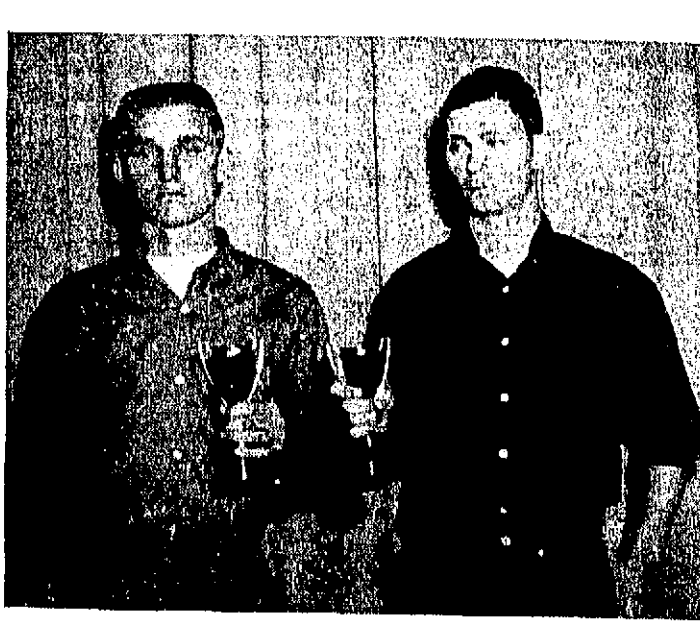

Others were described as old, some called inept.

It was believed some of the ousted judges already have fled the country or have sought asylum in foreign embassies, as some of the ousted supreme court justices did in December.

Members of Boards Must Attend Meets

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House today passed a Senate bill providing that any member of a state board or a commission who misses three consecutive meetings, except for illness, shall be removed from his position.

The vote was 92-1, with Rep. Talbot Field of Hempstead County casting the only dissenting vote.

The bill was written by Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff, who said he was inspired to introduce it because the board of trustees of Arkansas A&M College had had some trouble getting all its members together.

The House also passed Senate bills to permit second class cities to form housing authorities and to broaden terms under which cities and counties may sell industrial bonds under Act 9 of 1960.

Act 9, adopted at a January, 1960, special session of the legislature, permits cities and counties to issue revenue bonds to finance construction of buildings for industry. The bill adopted today would liberalize terms under which these buildings may be leased.

Retirement Plan Has Opposition

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that a reorganization of the Teacher Retirement System still does not satisfy all interested parties.

Faubus declined to say who was dissatisfied with the latest plan, worked out by a joint study committee earlier this week, but he indicated it was himself.

"You can say that we're getting closer together on a plan acceptable to all, but the plan that calls for the state to contribute 9.72 per cent of total teachers' salaries does not have a universal acceptance," he told newsmen.

Faubus would not say that he, personally, feels the state contribution should be cut, but he remarked repeatedly that the State Employees Retirement Fund is considered actuarially sound with a contribution of only three per cent of salary.

The legislature has been working on a reorganization of the Teacher Retirement System which would bring teachers under federal Social Security.

Brazil Takes Control of Santa Maria

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

RECIFE, Brazil (AP) — With Brazilian marines in command of the Santa Maria, rebel chieftain Henrique Galvao had virtually no choice today but accept defeat of his revolutionary gesture and come ashore.

Nearly all the crew of the Portuguese liner was ashore and Galvao's own thinned rebel band was dismantled aboard ship.

The 610-foot liner's regular skipper, Mario Simoes Maia, disclosed there had been efforts to sabotage Galvao's voyage even though the regular ship's officers were under gunpoint at all times.

He said faucets were left open to deplete the fresh water supply, in an effort to force a landing. He indicated that Galvao's inexperienced navigator had been led astray at times.

Capt. Simoes Maia declared some of the Galvao band who seized the ship Jan. 22 had come from the Soviet Union and been trained in Russian brigades. He said these rebels had been in Cuba recently.

"This was an authentic case of piracy," he asserted.

The last act of the high seas drama was expected in a conference aboard the ship between Galvao and Adm. Dias Fernandes of the Brazilian navy.

A Brazilian navy minister spokesman said it is almost beyond question that Galvao will accept asylum in Brazil. A Portuguese exile, he lived in this country for a time but later went to Venezuela to plot seizure of the Santa Maria.

Left stranded with only a skeleton crew, rebel chieftain Henrique Galvao bargained with Brazilian officials aboard ship. But the Brazilian Foreign Ministry in Brasilia said that President Janio Quadros' new administration had control of the 20,906-ton liner and would act in accordance with international law — presumably meaning it would give the cruise ship back to its Portuguese owners.

Quadros had personally offered Galvao and his rebel band of 70 political asylum in Brazil. It appeared that the diehards would have to accept and end their flamboyant seaborne revolt against Portuguese dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar.

Galvao's chief lieutenant and navigator, Jorge Souto Maior, a Spaniard, told newsmen in a shipboard interview that the men left on the liner—believed to number less than 30—were not enough to move the big ship from her anchorage only 300 yards from the Recife docks.

Most of the rebels joined 366 of the ship's crew and the nearly 600 passengers in rushing ashore by tug Thursday after Galvao finally brought the ship into harbor under mounting pressure of threatened mutiny and riot aboard the liner.

The passengers were taken to the Recife Portuguese Club. Amid festive decorations for Mardi Gras, arrangements began to transport them home.

The ship's owners, the Colonial Navigation Co., offered to see that they got to their original destinations.

The U.S. consulate said it was ready to help any Americans that requested aid. The 45 American passengers were taken into the homes of Americans living in Recife. Pan American Airways said it could fly back all the passengers from Belem, Brazil, 1,000 miles northwest of Recife.

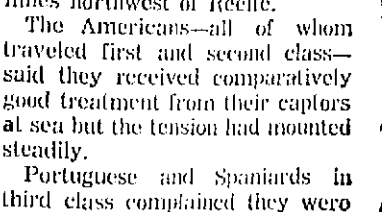

The Americans—all of whom traveled first and second class—said they received comparatively good treatment from their captors at sea but the tension had mounted steadily.

Portuguese and Spaniards in third class complained they were without water at the end of the 2,800-mile detour and had been given little food. Some said they feared for their lives.

Capt. Mario Gomes Maia, the veteran skipper of the Santa Maria who was taken prisoner by the rebels, said on coming ashore that there were "five traitors among the crew" in the daring seizure and they were remaining with Galvao.

in Nevada Co. which opened Wednesday, Feb. 1 and will continue through the month, reaching its high point on Heart Sunday, Feb.

bors for contributions. For the past several years the Prescott

In accepting the appointment,
Mr. Livingston pointed out that local Heart Fund contributions make possible the support of re-

"The Heart and blood vessel way to Cummins State Prison Farm to begin serving three year sentences for their part in that city's 1959 Labor Day integration-linked bombings.

A bill was introduced in the Senate Thursday to allow banks to operate detached teller's windows within their own municipalities and prohibit new ones elsewhere.

This would reverse a present law, although banks would be allowed to keep present windows.

Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, chairman of the State Hospital Board, introduced a bill to have the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission transfer back to the hospital some 800 acres of farm land near the hospital's Benton unit.

The AIDC had hoped to sell the land for industrial purposes, but that didn't materialize and now the hospital board would like to sell the land and put the money into the hospital building fund.

Faubus Thursday signed into law a bill under which the state will sell about $1,400,000 in local industrial development bonds. They cannot be sold for less than the amount the state paid for them.

In asking that the bill be passed by the legislature, Faubus said the state's new industrial financing laws of 1960 made it possible for the state to get out of industrial financing.

The House Thursday adopted and sent to the Senate a resolution establishing a five-member joint committee to draw up a plan for redistricting chancery and judicial districts in the state. The committee was instructed to report by Feb. 15.

The House defeated 55-26 a bill to prohibit closing a railroad depot in the small Columbia County town of Taylor. Rep. Colay said he introduced the bill to keep a campaign promise. He said the Louisiana and Arkansas Railway twice had been refused permission from the Arkansas Commerce Commission to close the station and that the railroad had filed suit contesting the decision.

A dispute erupted between Nevada and Miller County representatives on a bill to make automobiles sold in Miller County subject to Arkansas' three per cent sales tax instead of the 1 1/2 per cent tax now allowed since Miller is a border county. The bill was brought out of committee, then re-referred.

The House approved a bill which would require county judges to make written agreements on purchase or rental of materials and equipment for county use, and defeated a Senate bill reducing from 35 to 30 years the length of service required to make municipal judges eligible for retirement.

Among bills introduced in the House Thursday was one to allow two or more doctors to form a medical corporation, and one to get Arkansas' method of computing corporation income for tax purposes in line with the national method.

The Senate passed bills to provide for a one to five year prison sentence for aiding a patient to escape from the State Hospital, and to permit commitment of person to the State Hospital in emergency cases without their being present in court.

The Senate received bills to appropriate $30,000 for refurbishing the Governor's Mansion; $1,500 for a plaque on the Capitol Grounds in memory of the late Secretary of State C. G. Hall, and $500 for a program for eradication of birds which damage crops.

On a light note, the Senate passed a bill repealing the impractical tax on honey and Sen. Roy Riales of Mena said "I've been in the legislature for 18 years and this is the first tax we've ever repealed."

The tax costs more to collect than the levy produces.

Striking Strippers Close Rome Show

ROME (AP)—Striking strippers shut Rome's sole strip show today.

They were striking against a police order saying they had to take it off stage.

The strippers claim they have the right to undress where they please.

The police said it was all right to appear on the stage undressed—wearing, of course, the few strategic patches required by Italian law. But the police said the clothes had to be shed backstage.

Mrs. Perry Donald Purdie

The marriage of Miss Joyce Crowell to Elder Perry Donald Purdie was solemnized Sunday, Jan. 22 at 3:30 in the afternoon in the Central Baptist Church of Texarkana. Elder James Hoover Jr. united the couple in a double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Crowell of Texarkana and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Purdie of Hope.

Candlelighters for the occasion were Elder Glen Green of Texarkana and Billy Mitchell of Hope. "Entrust Me Not to Leave Thee" was sung prior to the entering of attendants. Serving as best man for the groom was his brother, Travis Purdie. Paul Stewart of Houston, was groomsmen. Bill Bryan of Greenwood, Ark. and Johnny Paul Lingo were ushers. Miss Jo Ann Kidd was at the guest book.

Maid of honor was Miss Rheta Crowell and bridesmaid was Mrs. Carolyn Matthews, both sisters of the bride. They were dressed identically in sapphire blue velvet dresses featuring a rounded neck, elbow-length sleeves and tiny bands of satin surrounding the waist and forming a cummerbund. The maid of honor's bouquet was fashioned of yellow carnations and accented with stylized yellow satin leaves and matching satin streamers. The bridesmaid's bouquet was similar to that of the maid of honor.

Miss Karen Jean Crowell, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress was identical to the other attendants' dresses. She scattered yellow petals from a white straw basket ornamented with yellow ribbons. Kenneth Olin Crowell, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

Mrs. Crowell chose for her daughters' wedding a gold, pure silk sheath with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of small bronze pom pom mums.

Mrs. Purdie wore a green wool jersey dress and matching accessories. Pined at her shoulder was a corsage of gold carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floorlength gown of white satin, lace and net. The neckline was of scalloped lace, and the fitted bodice was lace over satin. The sleeves tapered to a point on her hand and at the wrist were many tiny covered buttons. The skirt swirled to a chapel-length train. Inserts of scalloped lace from the waist decorated the full skirt. Her veil was full, held on by a small band of sequined leaves and flowers forming a half-crown. Around her neck she wore a single pearl pendant, gift of the groom. The brides bouquet, styled in a lovely cascade and fashioned of garlands of white hyacinths and centered with a specimen white orchid, was carried atop a white Bible and streamers with tiny satin flowers.

Midwinter Storm Hits Wide Section

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy, cold weather—midwinter's most potent climatic weapons—staggered broad sections in the eastern half of the nation today.

A blowing, drifting snowstorm which blanketed Midwest areas with a carpet of white a foot high in some areas, sped eastward.

Much of the northeast quarter of the country remained locked in a numbing cold wave—the third week of zero weather in many border sections.

Sleet and ice storms broke out in southern areas as some of the icy air from the North dipped into the Carolinas and headed into northern Georgia. Snow, sleet and freezing rain pelted all parts of Kentucky.

The cold and snow disrupted and curtailed business and industry, closed schools, stalled hundreds of cars, and made millions miserable.

It was 35 below zero in New York's Adirondack foothills Thursday night and early morning minimums in northeastern New York were expected to equal Thursday morning's -40.

The below zero belt persisted across wide areas in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, northern Lower Michigan, eastern Upper Michigan, extreme northern Minnesota and the eastern reception area.

Miss Carla Jo Purdie, sister of the groom, presided at the bride's book. Miss Jane Aycock of Texarkana and Miss Paula Sue Bell of Newark, Ark. served cake and punched. Jimmy Chandler provided soft piano music.

Out of town guests for the wedding other than friends and relatives from Hope were: Miss Paula Sue Bell of Newark; Larry Stark of McNeal; Jimmy Chandler, Gene Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Brice McLaughlin, Mrs. Hix Chandler, Mrs. Mattie Ball all of Nashville; Ed Stewart, Paul Stewart of Houston; Miss Pat Walker of Conway; Jimmy Chastain of Lewisville; Miss Dixie Osborne, Miss Kathryn Osborne of Dallas; Crowell of Shreveport; Miss Evelyn Host, Miss Mary Kelly of

The bride is a graduate of Texas High School and attended Conway Baptist College. The groom is a graduate of Hope High School and is a senior at Ouachita Baptist College. He is presently pastor of Corinth Baptist Church near Rosston.

For her wedding trip to Vicksburg, Miss. the bride chose a royal blue wool jersey sheath with black accessories. She pinned an orchid to her shoulder.

The couple are now at home at 420 Edgewood in Hope.

DOROTHY DIX

Belligerent Parents, Defiant Daughter

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I need help! The other night I came home an hour late. My parents asked where I was. I told them the truth, "Out with my boy friend."

My father hit the ceiling and put me through the third degree. I tried to tell my parents the boy is nice and treats me with respect. Father insisted he was drinking.

Mother and I quarrel constantly. She'll always think the worst about all teen-agers. She and father pick my friends and are very strict. I nearly go insane from fear. My mother slaps me in front of company. I feel like crawling into a hole crying. Fighting goes on constantly. If this keeps up, I really will get into trouble.

I am not allowed to write or receive letters from my friends. What shall I do? —J.

Dear J.: You and your parents are both at fault. Certainly you should not have come home an hour late and been out with a boy whom your parents did not know.

On the other hand, if they had reared you properly, this never would have happened. If your mother slaps you or your father hits you, it is an admission of their own short-comings in bringing you up.

Dear Desperate: At the risk of hurting your fiance, talk this out with him. Better now than later—in the divorce courts.

Dear Helen: I am engaged to a boy I love very much but all we do is watch TV, ride around town, or go to the movies—just like an old married couple. I could scream for I'm the up-and-coming type and love to dance, ice-skate or bowl.

I know my fiance is trying to save for our marriage but none of these things cost much. Maybe he's just tired from work. I hate to say anything for he's very sensitive but it's getting so I dread to see him because I know how it will be. —Desperate ing you up. The problem of behavior involves parent as well as child. Any father or mother who beats or slaps a child, immediately disqualifies as a parent in my eyes.

Dear K.G.: By all means tell your candidate for god-mother. If she's the nice person you think she is, you'll probably find her an eager and willing candidate, immensely flattered by the bid.

Corporal punishment is justified on the grounds that a child is only a young animal in need of training. After the first blow the child realizes the parent is an old animal with all the primitive instincts of one. The civilized parent obtains discipline through kindness, firmness and intelligence, and in the doing retains the confidence of the child, without which there can be no companionship—that most precious of all relationships between parent and child.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO BABY JANE

By Henry Farrell

Copyright © 1960 by Henry Farrell Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

THE STORY: Blanche Hudson attempts to ask Edna Stitt, the "clever" woman, to call a doctor for Blanche's sister Jane, who seems to be mentally unbalanced. Blanche is a cripple and lives with Jane. But lately Jane has devised methods to torture Blanche. When Blanche starts to talk to Mrs. Stitt, the phone rings.

Chapter XI

Mrs. Stitt snatched up the receiver before it could ring again. "Hello?" she enquired.

"Edna," Blanche wailed. "Please! You've got to listen to me. I've got to get word to Dr. Shelby!" she stammered in desperation and then, despite the fact that Mrs. Stitt was speaking—was saying things—into the phone, went on. "Edna, you were right about Jane. She has kept me absolutely helpless here in this house. I've been a prisoner here in this room."

"Yes, Mr. Cooper," Mrs. Stitt was saying rapidly into the phone. "Yes, that's all right—perfectly all right. Goodbye—yes—goodbye." Hanging up, she turned and came back quickly into the room. "I couldn't listen to him and hear you to . . ."

They turned in quick unison toward the door as Jane's footsteps clattered with angry rapidity up the stairs and into the hallway. In the next instant she was there in the doorway, panting, her gaze snapping from Blanche to Mrs. Stitt.

"Who were you talking to on the phone?"

Mrs. Stitt folded her hand upon her nonexistent stomach in a stiff gesture of exasperation. "Mr. Cooper from down at the store," she said shortly. "They're out of your brand of canned vegetables for tomorrow's deliveries, and he wanted to know if they could bring another kind. I said okay."

Jane accepted this explanation with a look of narrow suspicion. "I thought you were going to just do the work downstairs today," she said finally. Her gaze moved to Blanche, then quickly away again.

"I—I just thought I'd have a look around up here before I leave," Mrs. Stitt said with muted fury. "That's all."

"It's all right, Jane . . . Blanche offered weakly.

Unheeding, Jane looked over at the clock, then back at Mrs. Stitt. "Its three minutes past your time," she said flatly. "You'd better go if you're not going to be late at the next place."

Mrs. Stitt cast her a deliberately measuring glance and then wheeled about and stalked out of the room.

Jane did not bring Blanche her lunch. When Blanche heard Jane starting up the stairs, she closed her eyes, pretending to be asleep. Jane passed the doorway. Blanche opened her eyes and saw her sister.

Kennedys Move to White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy's two youngsters fly today from Palm Beach to snow-encrusted Washington to take up residence in their new home, the White House. It will be the first time since the days of Theodore Roosevelt that White House living quarters have resounded with the patter of children's feet.

The children, Caroline, 3, and 2-month-old John Jr. have been staying at the Palm Beach home of their grandfather while quarters were being prepared for them in the White House.

The Kennedy private plane bearing the children, John's crib and all, is due to arrive late this afternoon.

Author Charged in Stabbing of Wife

NEW YORK (AP) — Norman Mailer, author of the novel "The Naked and the Dead," pleaded innocent today to an indictment charging him with felonious assault in the stabbing of his wife.

General Sessions Court Judge Joseph A. Sarafite continued him in $2,500 bail pending trial. No trial date was set.

The wife was stabbed with a penknife Nov. 20 after a party in the Mailer apartment. She has refused to sign a complaint against him.

and braced herself with her right leg . . . It was impossible; she could never do it without falling. Feeling suddenly quite dizzy, she gripped the arms of her chair and closed her eyes.

Behind her closed lids time seemed to spin backwards, and there rose a hazy vision of a group of laughing people.

They were gathered around a piano, and at the center was a drunken, cowering figure holding her skirts up with delicately arched hands, singing, dancing . . .

The figure executed a clumsy high kick, staggered backward, laughing, and fell into the lap of the young man on the piano bench. She kissed him energetically, leaving a red smear across his mouth and shoved herself away again. There was wild applause.

And then a quieter voice, a woman's, spoke close at hand: "Isn't anyone going to stop her? Poor Blanche, stuck with a mess like that out in public. Marty must be thrilled to death."

"Don't worry," another voice answered. "If Blanche weren't her sister, she'd have been out on her ear long before now."

"Disgusting."

Derailment Brings Death to 6 Persons

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—A train derailment which turned a day at the races into a nightmare of death and suffering in snow-covered countryside is being investigated by Pennsylvania Railroad officials.

Six persons were killed and about 150 were injured Thursday when seven cars of a special 11-car train from Philadelphia left the rails while making a left turn from the main line onto a spur leading to Bowie race course.

About 300 passengers were on the train, three miles from the race track, when the quietness of the mid-winter afternoon was shattered in a mass of twisted steel, broken glass and uprooted seats.

The double-unit diesel engine tumbled over on its right side. The seven derailed cars bounced along over cross ties or open ground, but did not topple over.

Police said two of the victims, who included five passengers and a dining car waiter, died when the bottom of a car was ripped off and the men dropped under the train.

The engineer, Howard W. Horn, 62, of Camden, N.J., told police the train was traveling at about 30 miles an hour when the brakes failed as he turned off the main line.

Terrorist Stabbing in Japan Trouble

TOKYO (AP) — A 17-year-old linked with a right-wing terrorist group was arrested today for stabbing the wife of a leftist magazine publisher and killing her maid.

Police said Kazutaka Komori, who admitted the attacks Wednesday night in the home of publisher Hoji Shimanaka, was a recent member of the ultranationalist "Great Japan Patriotic Party."

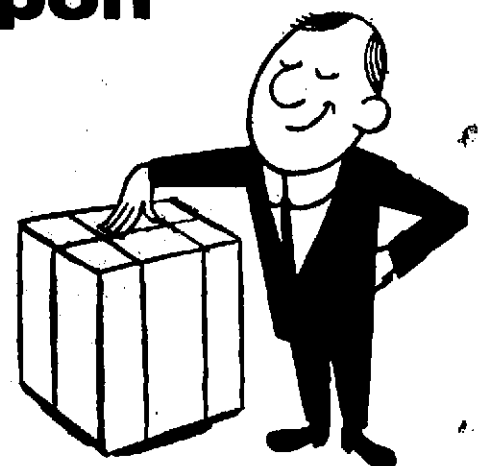

Another 17-year-old former member of the party assassinated Japan's left-wing Socialist party chief Inejiro Asanuma last October and later committed suicide in his jail cell.

Train Kills Child

LONOKE, Ark. (AP) — Rosemary Glover, 10, was killed Thursday when she was struck by a Rock Island freight train as she rode her bicycle home from a grocery store. The engineer, L. S. Raper of Little Rock, said he applied full emergency power to the train's brakes, but couldn't stop in time.

Bonaventure, Ranked No. 2, Has NCAA Bid

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Bonaventure, unchallenged No. 2 team in college basketball, have two celebrations underway today.

One is for a whopping 75-61 victory over third-ranked Bradley at New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday night. The other for word that the little school from Olean, N.Y., has accepted the earliest invitation in history to play in an all-time team in the National Collegiate Athletic Association post-season championship.

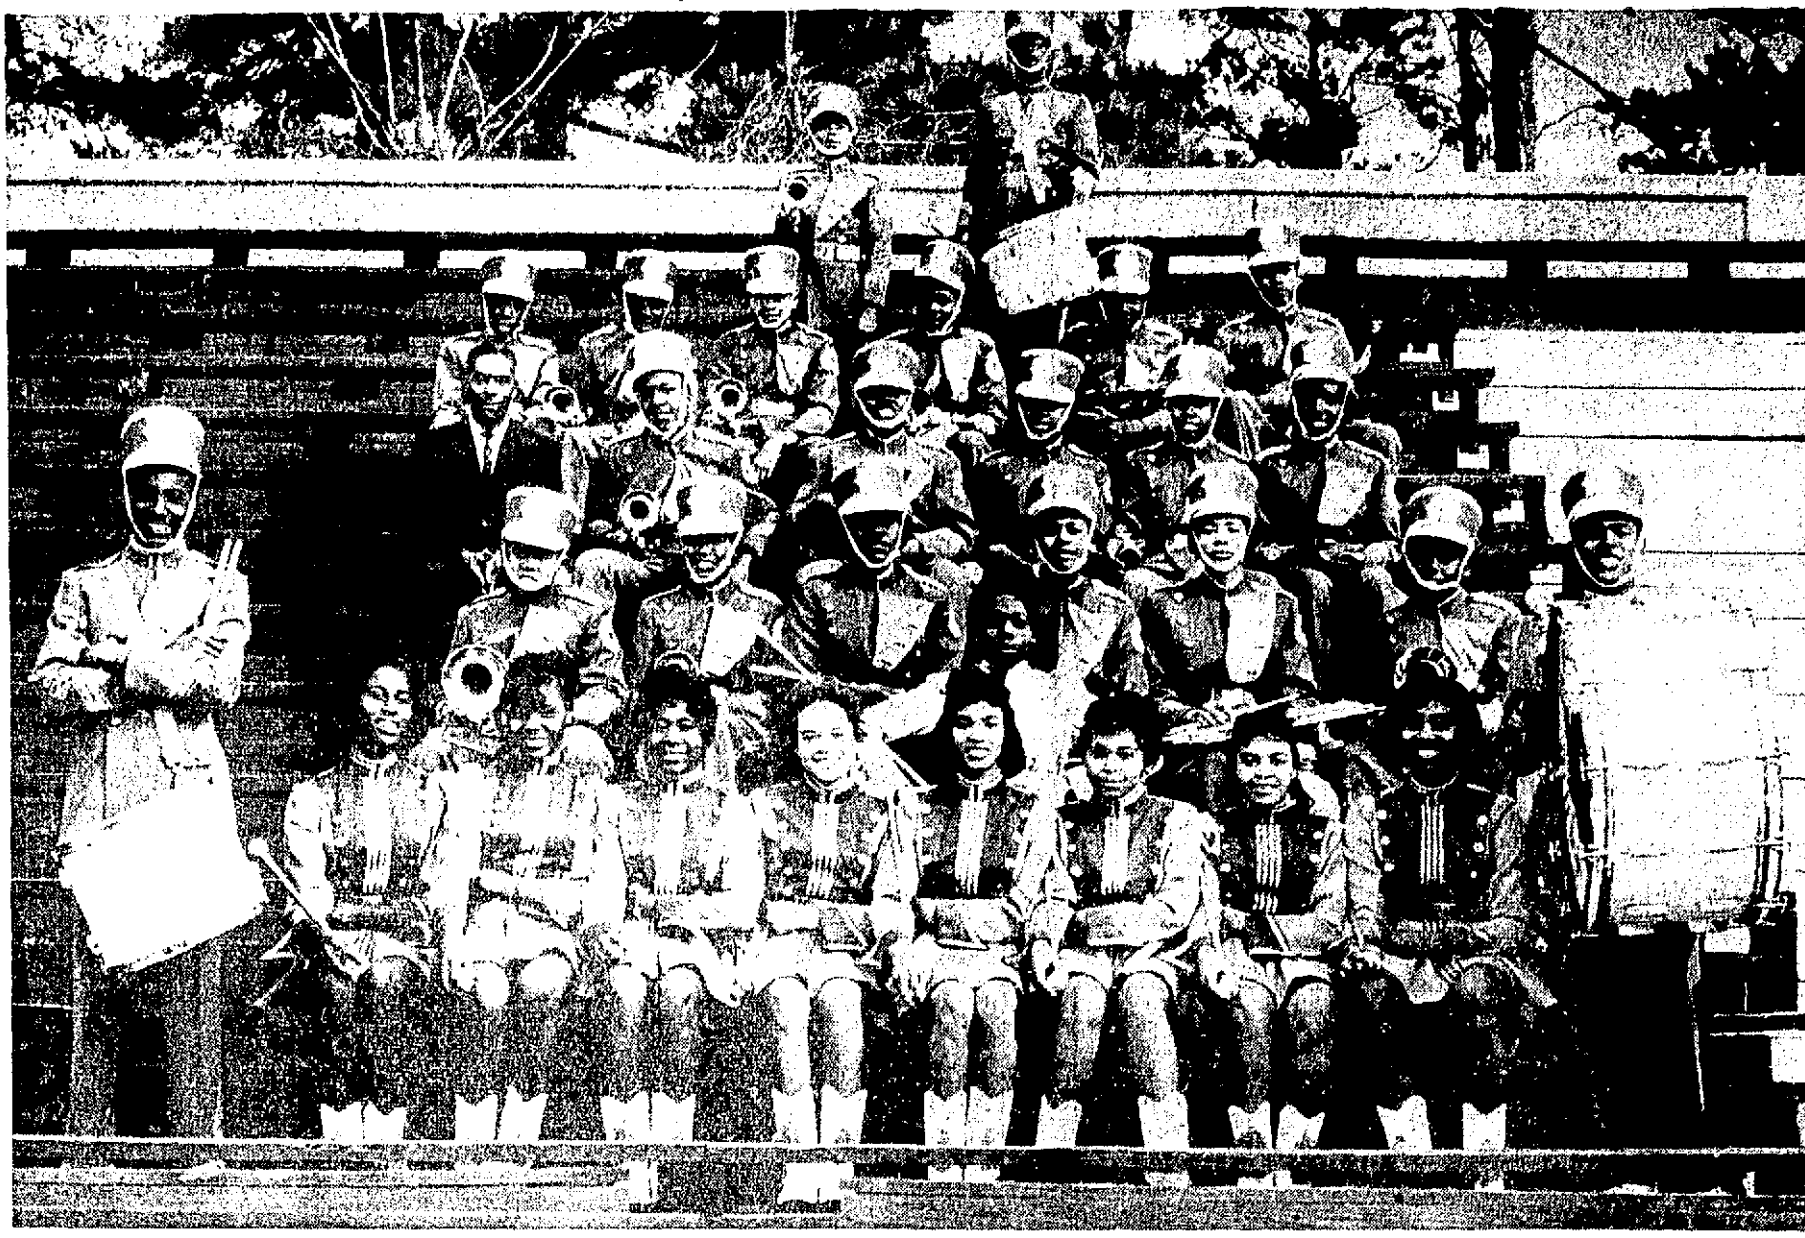

The NCAA berth gives St. Bonaventure a possible chance for a rematch with the Ohio State Buckeyes, who handed them their only defeat of the season—84-82 in the New York Holiday Festival final at the Garden in December. Providence pushed its winning streak to eight Thursday night, 115-70 over Creighton, while fifth-ranked North Carolina and Utah won important conference tests, and Notre Dame nipped ninth-ranked St. John's 64-62.

North Carolina (14-2) won its 12th straight with a comeback 63-56 decision over Maryland. Utah, with Billy McGill and Jim Rhead each scoring 20 points, beat Colorado State U., 69-58.

Armand Reo's tip-in with 12 seconds left beat St. John's (11-4) for Notre Dame—the New York Redmen's third loss in only three games away from the Big Town this season. Reo had 20 points while St. John's All-American, Tony Jackson, was held to eight.

Wake Forest won its eighth in nine ACC starts, 93-73 over South Carolina. Wichita (15-4) took a 104-58 win over North Texas State. Ted Luckenbill's 24 points paced Houston's 88-73 victory over Tulsa. Michigan whipped Western Ontario 88-58. Columbia edged Fordham 51-47 and Harvard nipped Amherst 64-62. Connecticut, led by Len Carlson's 20 points, downed Manhattan 73-71.

Royal Pair Goes Bird Hunting

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Prince Philip and resident Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan went bird hunting together today, which may or may not set off more criticism in Britain.

Phillips' tiger hunt last week while he and Queen Elizabeth II were visiting India resulted in editorials in leftist London papers criticizing the royal family's fondness for "blood sports." But the fact that the Pakistani president is as keen on hunting as Philip and went with him may deter the critics.

The Queen remained in Karachi to receive nine of the nation's princes and representatives of the Ismaili Moslem community.

Neil Martin Award to Jim Mooty

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Jim Mooty, former Razorback Associated Press All-America halfback now with the Dallas Texans in the American Football League, will receive the Neil Martin Trophy at halftime of the Arkansas-TCU basketball game here Saturday night. The trophy, presented by the Arkansas Athletic Union, is annually awarded to the state's best amateur athlete for the year.

Richard Kitchens, RICHARD "SONNY" KITCHENS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kitchens of 604 So. Hamilton, finished qualification for his Expert rating in Rifle Marksmanship this month. In qualifying for this award, Sonny has shot over 140 targets from all positions and near 1,000 rounds of ammunition. He has been a member of the local Junior Club for two years. The National Rifle Association recognizes winners of this award monthly in a nation wide publication. Kitchens joins Charles "Butch" Graham and David Moore as previous winners.

don't know anything else but working for Norge."

The Norge decision to move, announced on Wednesday, means that some 1,800 jobs will be eliminated in the Muskegon-Muskegon Heights area of northwest Lower Michigan, already plagued by high unemployment. According to latest figures, 6,500 persons are unemployed in the area. This is an 11.6 per cent unemployment rate, and compares to the national figure of 7 per cent.

The fall-off in employment has affected retail sales and the general economy of the area, which will be further depressed by the Norge move out of town.

In addition to eliminating jobs, the shift to Arkansas will mean an estimated loss of $10-million a year in payrolls; $20 million in Norge purchases of services and supplies; a loss of some $200,000 in property taxes, and some $120,000 more in other revenues.

In an effort to keep Norge here, Alfred E. Meyers, mayor of Muskegon, and Mrs. A. M. Court-right, mayor of Muskegon Heights, called on their fellow citizens to bombard the chairman of the Borg-Warner firm in Chicago with "constructive letters or telegrams" asking for reconsideration of the decision.

"But, said one Observer, 'There isn't a ghost of a chance that they will reconsider.'"

In a joint statement, the two mayors termed the decision "a tremendous blow to the economy of this community. The loss of 1,800 jobs here will be reflected in a real human suffering and misery."

What of the future for the Norge employees? Said one of Muskegon's leading citizens:

"Some probably will move to the new plant. But the others will have to be absorbed into the work force here. Many probably will

Quachita Athlete Dies of Cancer

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Jody Jones, 21, a three-year letterman in basketball and baseball at Ouachita Baptist College here, died of cancer at his home today.

He was a native of Quitman, Tex.

Has Respect for Ability of Chamberlain

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Charley Wolf of the Cincinnati Royals today voiced disagreement with Coach Paul Seymour of St. Louis who had said that 7-foot-1 Wilt Chamberlain has nothing going for him but his height.

"Just because he's 7-1 doesn't make him a good player," Wolf said of the Philadelphia star after he had scored 45 points Thursday night to lead the Warriors to a 133-118 National Basketball Association victory over Cincinnati. Jack Twyman, with 25 points, and Oscar Robertson with 24, were high for Cincinnati.

"Suede Halbrook (of Syracuse) is 7-3 but he can't get the things done Chamberlain does," said Wolf. "The fact that Chamberlain is 7-1 and has ability makes him much greater."

The fourth-place Royals' loss in the nightcap of a Convention Hall doubleheader hurt their Western Division playoff chances. The loss left them two games behind Los Angeles which defeated first-place St. Louis 116-115 in the opening game on Frank Selvy's foul shot in the last five seconds.

There were no other games.

Tight Scoring Race in Small Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tightest scoring race in NCAA small college basketball annals has the three top scorers, led by John Bradley of Lawrence Tech, separated by just seven-tenths of a point.

In addition three other shotmakers are within close range of the pacesetters through games of Saturday, Jan. 28, according to the latest figures released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

Bradley has a 32.9 average on 527 points in 16 games followed by Gene Velloff, of Doane, 32.5 on 422 points in 13 games and Lebron Bell of Bryan (Tenn.) with 32.2 on 386 points in 12 games.

Not far behind the top three are three other 30 points plus contenders in Lindberg Moody of South Carolina State, 30.9; Warren Spraggins of Virginia Union, 30.3 and Dennis Butler of Pikeville, 30.1.

Al Mengert Holds Palm Springs Lead

By CHARLES MAHER

Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Spokane's little known Al Mengert held a slim and surprising lead today going into round three of the Palm Springs golf classic.

But the unrivaled conversation piece here was an even bigger surprise—a hole-in-one that could turn into a $50,000 stroke of luck for Don January.

January, 31, who played golf for 24 years without scoring an ace, hit the jackpot on the fly Thursday at the 148-yard 15th hole on the Indian Wells, Country Club course.

The sponsors of this 90-hole, $50,000 event have offered a $50,000 bonus to any pro scoring an ace, and if no one else makes it before Sunday night, January will have the plump prize to himself.

Mengert, also 31, shot a 6-under par 65 Thursday at Thunderbird and came in with a two-day score of 133. The former amateur star was just a stroke in front of Bob Rosburg and Art Wall Jr. and only two strokes ahead of Fred Hawkins, Jay Hebert, George Bayer and Dave Marr.

January's hole-in-one, accomplished with an 8-iron had several engaging aspects. One of them was that the slender Dallas golfer thought at first his ball was stuck in a tree instead of a hole.

January said the ball probably hit the pin on the fly and stuck right in the bottom of the cup.

Don came in with a 65 but his first round 76 gave him 141 for two days and left him eight strokes back of Mengert.

January's hole-in-one was the second in the two-year history of the classic.

Young Joe Campbell of Anderson, Ind., got one last year on the 205-yard 5th hole at Tamarisk.
